"The Favorites of Jesus" "Unanswerable Questions"

SUBJECTS TO BE DISCUSSED
BY DR. WHITE AT BAPTIST CHURCH TODAY

Dr. White preached yesterday from the text, Romans 12:1, "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God." A grown man ought not to be satisfied with an easy religion. This letter is addressed to a noble and chivalrous band of Christians in Rome and is written by a man of the most splendid heroic type, therefore, you find the book written for those who would be heroes in Christ.

Three things are contemplated in this book, first, a noble appeal. To a noble appeal a motive. For a noble appeal a measure of consecration and service.

Some years ago we found men were not taking the part they should in the church life and work. They said they wanted sentimentality and superstition done away with, and the only thing that appeals to them is the appeal of love and sympathy, the appeal that has caught the key of the cross.

For many centuries the church that was in power tried coercion and persecution, but we need very different methods, appealing to the will and the highest there is in man.

When Paul said "I beseech you," it was the appeal of a man who had heeded the appeal. Paul was a very different character from Saul of Tarsus, he now had love where formerly he used force and persecution. Paul had been opposed to Christ honestly and strongly, but on the way to Damascus he had heard the tender loving voice and his heart was melted and love came to reign supreme in his life. So now Paul had become the apostle of great persuasion. He himself has been constrained by the love of Christ and because he knew men's needs he in love sought to give them what they needed. From the time of Paul to this day the world has never failed to yield to an appeal of love. The motive given them is the greatest possible "by the mercies of God," infinite measure. Paul always pulls the veil from in front of the cross and shows the love of God as it is in Jesus Christ, our Lord.

He refers to the mercies of God, in redemption, in atonement, in the suffering Christ and in the infinite love of Jesus. Paul preached to every one whom he could reach in any way, even to the soldier bound to his wrist. Christianity was made for the strongest and best endeavor. Whenever men attempt to do and endure, to serve and put into practice the principle of Christ. To live the life of conquering love, one needs to remember the mercies of God.

Our indifference to the heathen is ingratitude to God.

A noble measure of consecration and service, would be to give ourselves and our lives to God. He spoke of the great men in the Baptist denomination, Richard Furman and Richard Fuller, both of whom had caught the vision of Christ. The great question to every life is to give themselves, their all to Christ.

At night his theme was "The Wonderful Saviour," and a glorious picture he gave his hearers of Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, today, and forever. He spoke of God in nature, in the sun, the stars, the mountains, beginning with the message, "Unto you is born this day a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." A Saviour who is able to save to the uttermost.

Only three great human needs caused by first, sin, sorrow, death. All have sinned and come short of the glory of God, and sin hasn't changed, it is just as awful, just as horrible as ever and more awful in its activity. Sociology can't get it, philosophy can't get it, theology even can't get it. It demands a Saviour who has grappled with it and overcome. And sorrow, too, is unchanging, just as much a fact as sin. Sorrow is humanity, permanent portion, and sorrow the same yesterday, today, and forever, is met by Jesus, the same yesterday, today, and forever.

Finally death. Every one must face this, the last enemy—Death. And no man can meet it alone. In the face of death, we are powerless. Our Saviour is a great Saviour, because he does for us all the things we can't do for ourselves. He overcomes sin, sorrow, and death, and we can triumph in Him.

The subjects for today are, "The Favorites of Jesus," and "The Unanswerable Question."

OFFICIAL WAR STATEMENTS

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Official dispatches made public here tonight by the French embassy reported successes for the Allies all along the line. "Reports state that everywhere the enemy has received a serious check," said the cablegram.

The text of the dispatch follows: "Of the army of the Duke of Weurtemberg and the Crown Prince of Bavaria, on a front opposed by one English brigade 1,600 corpses were found."

"On the heights of the highway Des Dames, it is estimated that the number of killed and wounded Germans is about 2,000 although ours only reached about 100 men killed or wounded."

"Other attacks on different parts of our front, particularly at the north and south of the Somme and toward Berry-au-Bac, were less important."

"Reports state that everywhere the enemy has received serious check. In the course of the day yesterday, as previously, the allies took a number of prisoners. In the region of the north an unknown number of Mittrahenses and cannon were taken by our troops."

"In Poland the progress of the Russian continues. A very vigorous combat took place in the region of Jozow-Rawa."

"In the direction of Nowo-Alexandria-Zvolen, the enemy beat a retreat, leaving to the Russians 50 officers, 3,000 men and a number of Mittrahenses and cannon."

"To the south of Solatz the Russian troops crossed the Vistula, taking eight officers and 900 men."

"In the Carpathians the Austrians were thrown back on the railway near Staromest-Turka. In East Prussia, violent German attacks were repulsed."

Eighty Per Cent. Are Democratic at Heart

(By Associated Press.)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 28.—"The only two things in American life today that really count are the right to the pursuit of happiness and the keeping of the Democratic party in power as the surest safeguard to that happiness," said Vice President Marshall in an address here tonight.

The vice president asserted that there no longer was a Republican party in the United States.

"Eighty per cent. of the people of this country are Democratic at heart," he said. "In the United States there are no real divisions—political or otherwise—except aristocrats and Democrats. If the aristocrats are to rule I would advise the demolition of schools, libraries and newspapers, because with them in control the less you knew the better off you would be."

"One of the greatest things, in my judgment, the administration has done, is to create an atmosphere of honesty in America," he said. "We have been creating a public opinion that makes honesty in public business and private life."

Quiet Along Belgian Coast.
AMSTERDAM, Holland, Oct. 28.—(Via London, 7 p. m.)—The Telegram's correspondent at Sluis says remarkable quiet prevails along the Belgian coast. The German garrisons at Bruges, Heist and Knocke, he says, are not very large. The German commander at Bruges has ordered all British subjects between the ages of 16 and 60 to leave Belgium.

Exhausted Patrol Supply.
BRUSSELS, Oct. 28. (via London).—German troops in central Belgium virtually have exhausted their patrol supply. They apparently are unable to secure a return of large quantities of fuel oil they seized here and shipped to Germany.

The Germans are requisitioning many second hand horses, which they formerly had ignored, and also horse vehicles.

American Saved Historic Buildings

Brand Whitlock Due Credit for Saving Cathedral Art Galleries, and Other Buildings.

(By Associated Press.)
ANTWERP, Oct. 28.—(Via London, 9:20 p. m.)—To Brand Whitlock, American minister to Belgium, is due credit for saving the cathedral, art galleries, churches, theatres and public buildings in Antwerp during the recent German bombardment.

When the Germans approached Antwerp, Mr. Whitlock asked the commander, General von Der Goltz, to spare the historic buildings. General von Der Goltz agreed to use his good offices if Mr. Whitlock would prepare maps for the German aeroplanists that they might direct the firing. Henry W. Diederich, American consul general, then arranged large maps on which were indicated points which it was desired should be avoided by the German shells.

The shooting was so skillful that the Palace of Justice was the only large government building struck. It was slightly damaged. The slight damage done to the city is considered remarkable in view of the fact that in addition to the three days bombardment Zeppelins and Taube aeroplanes made attacks.

FIFTY BODIES HAVE BEEN FOUND

Disaster at Franklin Coal Mine That Cost 50 Lives Was Caused by Gas Explosion.

REGALTON, Ill., Oct. 28.—The disaster at the Franklin coal mine near here yesterday, which cost a half hundred lives, was caused by the explosion by a miner's lamp of a pocket of gas located the night before by a mine inspector and marked dangerous. Fifty bodies have been removed from the mine. Mine officials declared the workings clear and that they expected to find no more bodies.

A large proportion of the dead were sacrificed, it is believed, to save the lives of nearly 300 others in more distant workings. Reversal of the air pumps saved 285 miners scattered among the galleries, but doomed those in the zone of the explosion who were trying to reach the air shaft.

These facts were brought out today when the near completion of rescue work made investigation possible. The cause of the explosion was discovered by members of the State mining board. The immediate cause of the death of those who perished was learned from the statements of Leo Bellamy, a miner who escaped through the air shaft, and Ja Brown, mine manager. The coroner's inquest began this afternoon.

It is estimated that there are 25,000 members of women's clubs in Georgia.
